Places we cover

VICTORIA MEMORIAL

The Victoria Memorial is a large marble building on the Maidan in Central Kolkata, built between 1906 and 1921. It is dedicated to the memory of Queen Victoria, Empress of India from 1876 to 1901.

The largest monument to a monarch anywhere in the world, it stands in 64 acres of gardens and is now a museum under the control of the Ministry of Culture.

Following the death of Queen Victoria in January 1901,^[3] Lord Curzon, the Viceroy of India, suggested that a fitting memorial to the late Queen-Empress should be created in Calcutta, now called Kolkata, then the capital of British India. He proposed the construction of a grand building with a museum and gardens.

HOWRAH BRIDGE

To say that Howrah Bridge is one of the top places to visit in Kolkata would be an understatement. An unofficial emblem of the city, Howrah Bridge merits a visit if you want to spend some time alone with just the ocean in front of you. Sit here in silence or simply observe the fishermen go about their work at dawn and dusk.

The bridge has been renamed after Rabindranath Tagore and is now called Rabindra Setu.

DAKSHINESWAR KALI TEMPLE

The temple is dedicated to Bhavatarani, an aspect of Goddess Kali and 'the savior of the universe'. One of the oldest and most important temples to have ever been built, it receives pilgrims from all over the world.

The temple was founded by Rani Rashmoni, who lost her husband and was left with a vast amount of wealth. The idea of building this temple came to her in a dream and this was the last thing she did before going on a pilgrimage to Varanasi.

INDIAN MUSEUM

With its foundation laid down in 1814, the Indian Museum is one of the oldest in the world. Its 35 galleries are filled with historically significant items like stunning Mughal paintings, skeletons, fossils, Egyptian mummies, and other sacred items. This is the largest multi-purpose museum in the whole of the Asia-Pacific region.

M.P. BIRLA PLANETARIUM

With its foundation laid down in 1814, the Indian Museum is one of the oldest in the world. Its 35 galleries are filled with historically significant items like stunning Mughal paintings, skeletons, fossils, Egyptian mummies, and other sacred items. This is the largest multi-purpose museum in the whole of the Asia-Pacific region.

ALIPORE ZOO

The Alipore Zoo is one of the major tourist attractions in Kolkata, especially if you are travelling with children. The zoo is the oldest in the country and houses amazing species of animals, birds, and reptiles. You can spot the one-horned rhinoceros, white tigers, zebras, the Swinhoe's Pheasant, and many migratory birds here.

JORASANKO THAKUR BARI

Do you have an affinity for poetry and Rabindranath Tagore? Then you must check this place out. This is the ancestral home of late Tagore and the house has three separate galleries filled with paintings, personal items of the Tagore family, including his books and manuscripts. The house is surrounded by a lush garden and is a peaceful spot in the middle of the city.

SCIENCE CITY

The Science City is one of the top tourist places in Kolkata in the recent past. Inaugurated in 1997, this government-run centre is the largest in the country. Students love visiting the centre and exploring its popular exhibits like The Aquatic World, the Jurassic World, and the Time Machine.

ECO PARK

Kolkata is also known for its largest Eco Tourism Park in the country. Situated in the New Town area of Rajarhat, this urban park is spread across an area of around 190 hectares of land. It is surrounded by 42 hectares of water body, thereby forming an island. The park is also called Prakriti Tirtha and is a hit among locals who often hop here to spend weekends.

BISWA BANGLA GATE

Kolkata Gate (officially known as Biswa Bangla Gate) is an arch-monument in the city of New Town, Kolkata, West Bengal, India. It is built by Housing Infrastructure Development Corporation (HIDCO) on the Biswa Bangla Sarani at Narkelbagan, Action Area - I of New Town. It also houses a restaurant. The visitors' gallery and restaurant are surrounded by glass, which will be part of the wall. From here, one can see various parts of New Town.

KALIGHAT KALI TEMPLE

The original name of the city Calcutta originated from the term 'Kalighat'. Kalighat is one of the oldest neighbourhoods of Kolkata and houses the famous Kali Temple that devotees flock to. Surrounded by shopping streets, the temple is located in a busy and crowded part of this city.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

It is one of the first cathedrals built by the Britishers in India. Located in the heart of the city, St. Paul's Cathedral is built in an indo-gothic style and is an impressive structure you should not miss visiting. The cathedral complex is serene and calm and the building leaves you feeling relaxed

BELUR MATH

Belur Math is located on the banks of the river Hooghly and is the headquarters of the Ramakrishna Math. You can see Swami Vivekananda's room here and the old shrine. This is a perfect place to get away from the everyday hustle and bustle and calm your mind.

NICCO PARK

Are you an adventure lover? The Nicco Amusement park is the place for you then! Located in Bidhannagar, Kolkata, the park is complete with hundreds of rides and games for adults and children of all ages. You can easily spend the whole day here.
